WOMAN SICK TWO YEARS

Could Do No Work. Now Strong as a Man.

Chicago, Ill.—"For about two years I suffered from a female trouble so I was unable to walk or do any of my own work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and determined to try it. It brought almost immediate relief. My weakness has entirely disappeared and I never had better health. I weigh 165 pounds and am as strong as a man. I think money is well spent which purchases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. J. O'BRYAN, 1755 Newport Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

WOMEN RAILROADERS? HUH! HERE'S LADY BOAT CAPTAIN

CAPTAIN NUMA ELFER AND HER CREW.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 17.—Women as chauffeurs, elevator operators, car conductors and motormen are results of the world war, but there's only one woman steamboat captain and engineer.

On a trip to New Orleans from up the picturesque bayous and down the Mississippi River Mrs. Numa C. Elfer has been discovered. Her crew consisted of two negro deckhands and these as able-bodied bayou sailors: Heloise Elfer, aged 12; Namee Elfer, 10; Laurel Elfer, 8; Clemens Elfer, 6, and Bruce Elfer, 4. They are Mrs. Elfer's children.

Mrs. Elfer has an engineer's license, gained while making the trips for many years with her husband, Capt. Elfer. The steamboat, Heloise, named for the eldest child, is their home.

When the Elfers were married, he had saved $3000. It was decided they would buy a packet for the flourishing river, or bayou, trade.

While Elfer handles the engines, although Mrs. Elfer can do the job as well, the wife handles the pilot wheel. To save the expense of $30 a week for licensed pilot or engineer, Mrs. Elfer stood the government examinations.

Rain or shine, she makes the trips. The children were all born on the steamboat.

Imagine having to pilot a steamboat onto the river bank and tie up for half an hour or more while your infant is given its bottle!

"Living in a steamboat is just like living in a house," said Mrs. Elfer.

But she plans to give up the life while the children attend a real school. Up to now she's been their teacher.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN SPLITS WOOD LIKE TWENTY-YEAR-OLD

IS HALE AND HEARTY AT AGE OF 72 AFTER SUFFERING FOR NEARLY 7 YEARS—GAINS 15 POUNDS ON TANLAC.

"Last fall, some of my neighbors thought I wouldn't be able to live through the winter. I was so feeble that I couldn't carry a bucket of water from the yard to the house, without stopping to rest and change hands, but now, after taking Tanlac I can carry two buckets, one in each hand, split wood like a twenty-year-old and do anything I want to, and I have gained all of fifteen pounds."

The above remarkable statement was made a few days ago by J. W. Porter, of 1795 South Lauderdale street, Memphis, Tenn. Mr. Porter, who is loved and admired for his upright and sterling character by all who know him, was a sharpshooter in the First Mississippi Battalion under General Johnston during the Civil War.

"I suffered a general run-down condition along with indigestion and rheumatism for at least six or seven years," he continued. "I got so near everything I ate would sour on my stomach and form gas that was annoying and very painful. They would have to blister my stomach sometimes to give me any relief and I practically lived on medicines. I didn't dare eat at all and they kept me on raw eggs and even that would sometimes hurt me. I grew weaker from month to month and the rheumatism got so bad I couldn't raise my arms over my head and it just seemed to go over my whole body. I could hardly drag myself around the house and I was beginning to think the end was near."

"I finally decided to try Tanlac and the very first bottle began to help me and I improved with each bottle. I am now eating just anything put before me, even fresh meats and all kinds of vegetables, and nothing ever hurts me a particle. My rheumatism is all gone and I haven't a pain or an ache and I feel strong and unusually active for a man seventy-two years old, and Tanlac has done it all. My friends all marvel at what it has done for me and it is hardly necessary for me to tell you what I think of it, but you can depend upon me to say a good word for Tanlac whenever I have the chance."

Genuine Tanlac is sold only and exclusively in Pensacola by the Crystal Pharmacy.—Adv.

INCREASE POSTAGE RATE AFTER NOV. 1

Some misunderstanding has resulted from the preliminary announcement by the postoffice department that an increase of postage would be effective on November 2, and many Pensacolians are wasting money by placing the added cent on letters, according to announcement made yesterday at the local postoffice.

To correct this impression, Postmaster Hancock is sending the following circular to all rural patrons, and placing it in the boxes at the postoffice:

By order of the Postoffice Department, beginning November 2d, 1917, the postage on all matter of the first class will be three cents an ounce or fraction thereof; and drop letters shall be mailed at the rate of two cents an ounce or fraction thereof.

Under this ruling all letters mailed at this postoffice and addressed to other postoffices will require postage at the rate of three cents an ounce or fraction of an ounce. Letters addressed for delivery from an office at which mailed will be subject to postage at the rate of two cents an ounce, or fraction of an ounce. The postage on postal cards will be 2 cents.

INJUNCTION TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT AFTER ARGUMENT

Quite a crowd of interested persons gathered at the Court of Record building yesterday at 11 a. m. and heard with much attention the arguments which were made in the injunction proceedings. The case was taken under advisement by Judge C. M. Jones after both sides had ably argued their respective viewpoints.

John P. Stokes appeared for the sheriff, while Kirke Monroe represented those who brought the proceedings.

In the course of the argument, many authorities were consulted, the sheriff's counsel maintaining that the act of 1917 prohibited absolutely the serving of drinks except as specially provided in the Davis package law of 1915, and that under the act referred to drinks could be served only in the manner, at the time and place as provided and prescribed in the act of 1915.

On the other hand, Mr. Monroe asserted that the act of 1917 did not stop an individual from serving liquors in quantities, or in less than one half pint, and that in serving liquors in such quantities, the claimant Hilliard, acted in the capacity of bailee and not as the agent of those seeking such service. He claimed that the relation of master and servant did not enter strongly into the transaction.

Both sides quoted law in support of their respective arguments, the respondent quoting authorities seeking to show that the intent of the legislature, in the light of past history and present conditions which were sought to be remedied, is foremost in the application of law from the bench.

A number of ladies were present and heard the contentions with deep interest. Several of the protestant ministers of the city were also on hand and evinced no little interest in the proceedings.

Judge Jones did not indicate yesterday, when he announced the question would be taken under advisement, when he would probably pass on the case.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT OLIVE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The revival meeting that is now in progress in the Mt. Olive Baptist church will close Sunday night, October 21. Rev. R. Thomas, of Jacksonville, who has been assisting the pastor in these meetings has rendered unstinted service in the gospel sermons and quite a few people have professed religion.

There will be a special service for men only on Sunday at 3 p. m. and every colored man in Pensacola is cordially invited to be present.

A special invitation is extended to the pastors of the city with the men of their congregation. The service will not be out of the ordinary, nor one will be embarrassed on the part of the leaders to carry out the program, therefore all men may come.

A promulgation program will be had with Prof. M. N. M. Bennett, presiding at the piano.
